

Origins

Yale Classics Departmental Colloquium 2012-13

A one-year seminar series investigating the uses and disadvantages of concepts of origins and originality for research into classical antiquity.

Provisional schedule

September 7: Shane Butler (UCLA/Bristol), “The Ancient Phonograph”

October 19: Emily Schurr, “Dreaming Up Classics: Petrarch's ‘Africa’ and beyond”

November 30: Jay Fisher

December 7: Richard Hunter (Cambridge)

January 25: Andrew Johnston

February 22: Joshua Katz (Princeton)

March 29: Cathy Gere (UCSD), “Anthropology, evolution and pre-Hellenic archaeology, 1872-1939”

April 26: Pauline LeVen

The colloquium will take place on Fridays from 12-2, at roughly monthly intervals, in Phelps Hall 401 (344 College St., New Haven).

A light lunch will be served.